

Why Hiscox for the Training & Tutors sector?

We love teaching and training risks that sit outside of mainstream education. This includes almost any type of professional educational.

Our 'Failure to Educate' wording offers rare clarity

While other insurers often leave Professional Indemnity cover vague in this area, we spell it out - so you and your clients know exactly what's covered and can feel confident in their protection.

A one stop shop

We offer a broad range of covers on a single policy and renewal date, enabling us to insure the whole customer - where others may be more limited.

Highly competitive and flexible pricing

We understand the commercial pressure your clients in this sector face, so our pricing is designed with that in mind.

Big or small

We can cover businesses of all sizes - from music, drama and language schools to the individual tutors.

We know our sectors in depth - come and speak to us about what these trends mean for your clients and how Hiscox can help.

01 Changing focus

Shifting priorities are emerging in this sector, with a growing emphasis on skills-based education and practical, real-world capabilities.

02 Increased use of technology

Technology is playing a growing role in this sector, with clients and providers increasingly using digital tools such as online learning platforms to deliver and enhance educational experiences.

03 Financial pressures

With budgets under strain and funding challenges ongoing, this sector is actively looking for ways to reduce costs and improve efficiency.

We are there for your clients when it matters most

A tutoring provider offering both in-person and online lessons faced allegations of discrimination and inappropriate conduct involving one of its tutors. The issue was shared publicly by a parent on social media, but we worked with specialist teams to address the concerns - ultimately leading to the complaints being withdrawn. Please speak to your local underwriter for further information.
